Milestone achievement of the Eligma company: GoCrypto system at 1,000 merchant locations

12 March 2020 — In less than two years since launching a solution for easy payments with cryptocurrencies, the Eligma company from Slovenia has hit the four-digit mark: there are now more than 1,000 locations with its GoCrypto system, and GoCrypto is available in 13 countries.

GoCrypto is a global payment network for accepting crypto payments. By connecting users of different crypto wallets with merchants, Eligma is making instant crypto payments accessible both at physical and online stores. In this way, cryptocurrencies are becoming part of daily life and shopping.

Here are a few fun facts:

-   The very first transaction with the early version of the system was at the Atlantis Waterpark at the BTC City shopping mall, Ljubljana, Slovenia.

- The round number of 1,000 locations was reached with the addition of the Sportina store chain.

- Some well-known stores and locations that now accept crypto: GoCrypto was joined by Burger King Slovenia (making it the first physical Burger King location in the world accepting crypto), 37 Žito bakery stores, the famous BrewDog bar in Budapest and Debarcadero Lugano Centrale a crypto ferry service provider in Switzerland— these are just a few highlights that you can find on our list of locations.

- You can now buy more than 140,000 different products through the GoCrypto system. The shopping habits of 'crypto shoppers' do not really differ from those of local currency users, ranging from many small purchases in the food and drink category to travel and popular electronics.

- The GoCrypto solution is available in 10 European countries (Slovenia, Switzerland, Croatia, Bulgaria, Hungary, Slovakia, the UK, Romania, Czechia, Portugal). Furthermore, it has just made a leap over the ocean through its partnership with Xpay, adding a total of almost 200 locations in Argentina, Columbia and Venezuela.

- GoCrypto currently accepts payments with Elly and the Bitcoin.com Wallet — 10 million users strong.

GoCrypto is a result of an amazing development from several locations accepting crypto in its homeland Slovenia (now the country with the highest number of physical locations accepting crypto in the world) to a fast-growing payment network without borders. In an exclusive report by Eligma's CEO Dejan Roljic, you can find a recap of Eligma's past 7 months.

GoCrypto will soon expand to more countries, connecting more users, wallets, cryptocurrencies as well as payment solution providers, cashier systems and merchants along the way.

About Eligma
The mission of Eligma is to make cryptocurrencies part of daily life and shopping. It developed GoCrypto, an infrastructure for accepting crypto payments at local and online shops; the merchant receives the settlement in the local fiat currency (e.g. euros). The option to accept crypto is also in development. GoCrypto supports payments with the Elly app and the Bitcoin.com Wallet. Eligma's GoC token is available at Bitcoin.Exchange.com and tokens.net.
